

WARBURG DECLINES BUT WILSON URGES HIM TO ACCEPT

Banker Asks That His Nomination as Member of Reserve Board Be Withdrawn.

SENDS WORD TO SENATE

Refuses to Appear and Be Examined Regarding His Qualifications—President Acts.

WASHINGTON, July 7.—Paul M. Warburg of New York formally requested President Wilson to withdraw his nomination to be a member of the Federal Reserve Board. Mr. Warburg called the White House by telephone early to-day and personally requested the President to cancel his appointment.

Later Mr. Warburg again communicated with White House officials and President Wilson sent him a telegram asking that he reconsider his declaration to serve on the board.

Senator Hitchcock of the Senate Banking Committee about the same time received a telegram from Mr. Warburg declining to appear before the committee.

Mr. Warburg's telegram to Senator Hitchcock read:

"I acknowledge receipt of your telegram of yesterday inviting me to appear before your committee. I cannot comply with this request because, feeling that the action of the committee last Thursday in withholding action regarding my name, while favorably reporting the names of three of the nominees, created a situation which might impair my usefulness as a member of the Federal Reserve Board. I wrote the President on Friday respectfully requesting the withdrawal of my nomination.

"Furthermore, while I should have been glad to appear before your committee, if it had deemed conference with all of the nominees necessary to guide its action, I feel that I should not do so after one other nominee and myself had been singled out for examination inasmuch as any willingness to serve upon the Federal Reserve Board was based upon the hope that the Senate would appreciate my motives in accepting the office and would unreservedly extend to me that full support and confidence which should be enjoyed by all the members of the board if it is to effectively fulfill its mission."

Paul Warburg declined to make any public statement to-day regarding the withdrawal of his nomination to be a member of the Federal Reserve Board controlling the new banking system. He refused to stand for personal cross-examination by the Senate Banking and Currency Committee and to face the hostile attacks that awaited him.

There was absorbing discussion in financial circles to-day over the episode, and numerous reports developed of the sources and reasons for the persistent opposition to Mr. Warburg. Three principal criticisms quoted as animating the Senators were as follows:

First—Partnership in Kuhn, Loeb & Co. and participation in high financial deals with Harriman interests.

Second—His belief in a central banking system and affiliation with

What Is the Limit of a Married Woman's Jealousy? How Far Is She Justified in Spying on Her Husband?

LISTENING AT THE DOCTOR'S WINDOW

"A WOMAN HAS NO RIGHT TO BE JEALOUS OF ANY OTHER LIVING BEING."

"I Really Think Jealousy Is the Meanest, Worst Feeling That Can Creep Into the Human Heart."

"Jealousy Is the Bread Fear—That Is the Origin, the Only Shadow of Excuse It Ever Had."

"When a Woman Is Economically Dependent on a Man She Is Naturally Afraid that if He Transfers His Affections He Will Transfer His Support Along With Them."

By Marguerite Mooers Marshall.

What right has a woman to be jealous? That question, of all others, is scrawled across the trail of murder and mystery in Freeport, L. I., so that she who has marital myopia may read. There was tragedy in the house of Dr. Edwin Carman before Mrs. Louise Bailey was shot down by a woman's hand on his threshold. Green-eyed, haggard-faced, bitter-hearted tragedy companioned the man and woman who lived in that house. For the woman was jealous of her husband.

She herself has told the story in all its unclean details—how she listened to scandalous gossip purveyed by so-called "friends," how she brooded and spied, how she poured out her suspicions to perfect strangers and procured from them the dictograph, a mechanical keyhole listener, as a final pandering to what I believe to be the most evil emotion ever aroused in a human heart.

Jealousy is evil because it is a sin against love. A woman's jealousy of her husband or lover is of the most abominable type, because it offends against what should be the most vivid, the most splendid human relation. The fact that Queen Elizabeth of England, George Sand and other women of distinction have been as jealous as Mrs. Carman, or as an illiterate fishwife, in no degree justifies this gangrene of the soul.

the Aldrich plan for control of the nation's finances by a single gigantic bank.

Third—Opposition to his foreign birth and Jewish race.

There was much talk in Wall street to-day about a mysterious circular reported to contain an attack upon Jewish financiers in general and Mr. Warburg in particular.

Reports from Washington were to the effect that the withdrawal of Mr. Warburg and the failure of the Senate to confirm his associate nominee, Mr. Jones of Chicago, would not delay longer inauguration of the new banking system. Secretary of the Treasury McAdoo was credited with intention to proceed at once with only five of the seven members of the Federal Reserve Board in and set up the twelve reserve banks in as many different cities.

There is nothing in the act to prevent a majority of the board from proceeding and the necessity of getting them established before crop movement time comes. The board now consists of Secretary McAdoo, Comptroller Williams, and Messrs. Harding, Miller and Hamilton. The first two are ex-officio members and the last three have been confirmed by the Senate.

SLAPPING THE NURSE'S FACE IN A FIT OF JEALOUSY

the sentimental lie that the only true test of love is jealousy?" I asked.

"I was wondering how long it would be before you brought that up," she smiled. "Do you know a man of really great cultivation asserted that very thing in a discussion I had with him not long ago? He said that jealousy was the reaction from love just as a blue flame is the reaction from burnt sulphur. He insisted that a man is jealous even of a woman's work, of anything that may distract a little of her emotion from himself."

"I have noticed the nagging, envious attitude of most husbands whose wives have attained any real fame or success in a chosen profession. This grudging spirit, which is nothing but jealousy, must be eradicated from men, just as women must give up their sex-jealousy."

"The jealous instinct manifests itself such mean ways!" exclaimed Miss Davies, somehow keeping her delightful Kentucky contralto at once smooth, soft and emphatic. "I really think it is the meanest, worst feeling that can creep into the human heart."

ORIGIN OF JEALOUSY IN A WOMAN.

"What is the real reason for its existence in a woman?" I asked. "Jealousy is the bread fear. That is its origin, that is the only shadow of excuse it ever had. When a woman is economically dependent on a man she is naturally afraid that if he transfers his affections he will transfer his support along with them. She is afraid of losing her daily bread. Whether she knows it or not the modern woman who succumbs to jealousy is tacitly admitting that she is too helpless to take care of herself."

"That is the explanation of a girl's jealousy of her young man before marriage. She is really afraid that he will take on the job of supporting some other woman than herself."

Which is prosaic but edifying discourse for the female who believes her jealousy to be a sign of a "passionately romantic temperament."

"The woman who can support herself, whatever happens, is not usually jealous of her husband," Miss Davies went on, her big blue eyes shining. "The new woman who has a cultivated mind and a social sense is not often a victim of jealousy. When you really feel that all men are your brothers and all women your sisters, when you have thought yourself away from the silly idea that your husband is your personal property, you can't be jealous."

"The wise wife invites the nicest women she knows to her home and encourages her husband to be friends with them; just as the wise mother gives her child home-made candy. Then nobody goes out looking for unwholesome sweets."

"Also, I do not think jealousy can co-exist with a sense of humor," finished Miss Davies, her own wide, sweet smile flashing forth again. "At least, I am certain that the woman who sees the funny side of things cannot be jealous for more than thirty seconds at a time. Then she will have to laugh at it all!"

REPRIMAND TO EVANS IS "SILENCE" ORDER

Garrison to Tell General He Must Not Discuss Nation Policies in Public.

WASHINGTON, July 7.—The reprimand which President Wilson ordered for Brig.-Gen. Robert K. Evans will take the form of a letter from Secretary Garrison, admonishing that officer not to discuss controversial subjects in public. At a banquet recently in New York, Gen. Evans, temporarily in command of the Eastern Department, was reported as referring to the United States as "the most middle-class nation." Although he declared he had been misquoted, Gen. Evans admitted discussion of American diplomacy.

INDIAN IS FREED BY WILSON AFTER 34 YEARS IN JAIL

Prisoner Hero of Blackfoot Legend and Lost to Race Is Revealed by Tribal Song.

WASHINGTON, July 7.—After thirty-four years in prison under life sentence for murder, Spoopee, a Blackfoot Indian, was unconditionally pardoned to-day by President Wilson. He will be released at once from the Federal Hospital for the Insane here.

A party of Blackfoot sight-seeing in Washington months ago happened upon Spoopee, who had grown gray with his long imprisonment. They established his tribal identity by an Indian song and one of the interpreters recognized in Spoopee the hero of an old legend who had disappeared a score of years ago into some white man's jail. Blackfoot mothers have been singing their children to sleep with a song about him ever since.

Officials of the Indian Office, advised of the discovery, began an investigation which resulted in his pardon.

Spoopee was charged with the murder of a white man near the Canadian boundary north of the Montana line. It is thought by the Department of Justice that the murder probably was committed in Canada and that the territorial courts of Montana which tried him at Fort Benton had no jurisdiction.

Moreover, it is now believed that Spoopee committed the murder in self-defense. He and another Indian, Good Rider, asked a white man for food. Their request was denied and the white man denounced Spoopee, finally assaulting him with an axe. The Indian claims to have fired in self-defense, and his story is credited by the Department of Justice.

Commissioner Sells of the Indian Office took the case up personally and arranged today to send Spoopee back to his people.

JAPANESE GENERAL HERE.

Is Saluted Upon His Visit to Governor's Island.

Major Gen. A. Tanaka, Col. Okamoto and Col. Iwano, of the Japanese Army, who are making a trip around the world, inspected Governor's Island to-day as guests of Gen. Robert K. Evans, in temporary command here.

The Japanese officers were met by the single company on duty there and the Major General's salute of thirteen guns was fired. During the inspection the band of the Twenty-ninth Infantry played. The visiting officers later were entertained at the officers' club.

CHICAGO, July 7.—President Gilmore of the Federal League to-day set July 14 as a day on which children in orphan asylums will be guests of the league at the cities in which its teams are playing.

MITCHELL GIVES T. R. A CLEAN BILL AND LITTLE FOR GLYNN

Colonel Appears to Measure Up in All Respects, With Governor a Trifle Short.

Mayor Mitchell in his latest comment to-day on the political situation in New York declared that he considered Theodore Roosevelt "a clean, capable and independent citizen." When asked how he regarded Gov. Martin Glynn the Mayor said the Governor was "clean and capable," but failed when his attention was called to the omission of the word "independent" as applied to Roosevelt, to include it in his description of the Governor.

Parring the numerous questions put to him, the Mayor showed that he does not desire his attitude known for the present at least, although by the nature of his answers it would seem that as between two candidates Mayor Mitchell prefers Roosevelt to Glynn, a preference he would not make public for the reason that Wilson Democrats who put the kibosh on the Bull Moose fusion plans would not stand for any kind of declaration tending to help the Roosevelt Presidential boom.

"I would support any clean independent Democrat free of Murphy's control," declared the Mayor.

"Do you think Gov. Glynn is free of Murphy's control?" he was asked.

"I don't think that is a fair question to ask," he replied, "because my failure to answer it perhaps places a wrong interpretation on what my answer would be."

"What I would prefer to see," continued the Mayor, "is a clean, capable independent Democrat nominated for Governor. I would support a clean organization man if he was independent. In the event that I could not find a clean, capable, independent Democrat I would be willing to vote for any clean, capable, independent man. But I think there are many Democrats who are up to the standard I mentioned."

"Do you consider Theodore Roosevelt as in the clean, capable, etc., class?" was asked.

"I do," replied the Mayor, "but I do not refer to him politically—rather to the character of the man. I think John A. Hennessy, who I understand has been mentioned for office, would make a good candidate for any of several offices.

The Mayor said he thought good men on the Progressive ticket might be endorsed by the anti-Tammany Democrats. At least he personally would favor such a plan.

There are other anti-Tammany Democrats who do not think the same as the Mayor and there comes the hitch. These independents would back a Democrat like Hennessy, but they would not endorse any candidates who are Roosevelt men.

"Mr. Murphy is waiting to see what the Progressives will do," said a Tammany man to-day. "If Roosevelt changes his mind and runs, Murphy will come out and declare for Glynn. If Roosevelt doesn't run, Murphy will let us put up a candidate and get licked. In either case we are going to be the goats."

Col. Theodore Roosevelt will come to town to-morrow and hold a series of conferences at Progressive headquarters on Forty-second street. It is his intention to visit headquarters every Wednesday and hold conferences with Progressive leaders from all parts of the State. It is believed that to-morrow will decide whether or not the Colonel shall reconsider his determination not to be a candidate for Governor. Every Progressive leader in the State, as well as leaders from other States, will be on hand and make one more attempt to get the former President to run.

Even if Col. Roosevelt is determined not to run for Governor, it is not his intention to lose his grip in New York State. He will endeavor himself leader of all the Progressive—not meaning merely the Bull Moose Progressives, "but all the Progressives."

After making this stand Col. Roosevelt will send out a call for dissatisfied Democrats and Republicans. He will attempt to make a brand new party of the malcontents of the old regular organizations, and with them build a machine which he will drive next year and have behind him for 1916. That is the identical program as actually adopted today by those who profess to be close to the Colonel.

The Roosevelt lieutenants are making great preparations for to-morrow. They expect to pick their State and Senatorial ticket from among the following: Louis Antidale, anti-Tammany man from Rochester; Frank Lord O'Brien, independent Republican of Buffalo; Harvey D. Hinman, independent Republican of Binghamton, and Justice Samuel Seabury, Progressive Democrat.

Justice Seabury is said to be slated for United States Senator.
